5	07/07/2017	This morning Mr.Brooks met with me to report that he does not intend on making today's SEP's appointment. His reason is that he has a pending apartment in Brooklyn, NY. When I asked why hasn't he provided any proof of this, he replied again "I do not want anyone from here to know my business." I explained to him that without proof, he must attend housing appointments and seek opportunities on his own to remain compliant about his ILP. I further expressed to him that if evidence is not furnished by 9 pm this evening, then I would have to refer him to the local HRA to apply for a full and active PA case, he then stated he would give proof of his apartment later today. If he fails to submit the documentation, I will create and issue him the PA ILP.	07/07/2017 12:05 PM	O'Neill Young

After review of the document, it listed his current address as 89-111 Porter Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11237, something he attributes as a typo and the date of the letter is June 30th, 2016, another grammatical error as per Mr.Brooks. I explained to him that the paperwork would be verified on Monday, July 10th, 2017 and encouraged him to provide another document with updated information as well as the correct date. Thus far, Mr.Brooks has failed to provide satisfactory proof of housing, and in the event, this information is not valid he would then be referred to HRA to apply for full benefits.	07/07/2017 11:09 PM	O'Neill Young	07/07/2017 11:10 PM	O'Neill Young

45 12/18/2016	Case Manager met with client to discuss client's status. Client was questioned on why he did not provide a pay stub as previously agreed when it was learned that client had been re-hired after having been laid off for a two week period. CM had issued client a LINC V appointment without knowledge of client's lay-off. This caused confusion in the process because during the time of his lay-off, client had re-applied for public assistance, making his LINC application void. It was then that CM learned client had been unemployed. CM then requested that client supply proof of employment via letter or pay stub or work schedule. Client stated he would be getting paid on Friday, Dec. 17, 2016 and CM would receive a copy of the pay stub. Client has not supplied said copy as of yet. CM will monitor this week.	12/19/2016 11:29 AM	Dashiell Porter

47 12/12/2016	Case Manager met with client to discuss the outcome of his LINC V appointment of Dec. 3, 2016. Client was questioned as to the development of his visit. Client responded that "nothing happened. The guy said he couldn't help me." When asked why that was the case, client finally spelled out that he had actually been laid off from his employment two weeks prior to the appointment, along with 70 other employees, and had went down to HRA to apply for full benefits, and that his new application process had not been carried out to its completion. This was done without Case Manager's knowledge. In other words, client never informed Case Manager that he had been laid off from his job, and that he had applied for full benefits the week before. Client was asked why he had not reported back with the results of his LINC visit. Client stated he felt he was sent on a wild goose chase. CM interjected that client had not followed protocol, and proceeded out of sequence, throwing the process off. CM lamented that the HRA worker was correct in his findings because client needed to wait for the outcome of having applied for full benefits. Client reports that he has since been rehired by the 4-C company and that he is expecting a paycheck this week. Client was asked to produce a copy of this pay stub so that CM can have him rescheduled for LINC. CM to follow up during the coming week.	12/13/2016 05:07 PM	Dashiell Porter
